The Party and its members are ready, capable and willing to serve all of humanity, being conscious of their obligation to the Divine.

FOREWORD BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE PARTY

AL JAMA-AH HAS MADE AN INDELIBLE MARK
AS A SMALL BUT FORMIDABLE POLITICAL PARTY WITH A GROWING PRESENCE IN ALL THREE SPHERES OF GOVERNMENT.

The Party pursues values-based policies with its underpinnings centred upon and its adoption of ethical approaches to everything it does. The Party has galvanised its position as a competent and trusted presence within the South African political domain. It possesses the necessary capacity to drive projects and deliver on its agreed-upon mandate. It has, as such, earned the respect from both the ruling party and opposition parties. Al Jama-ah has, and continues to demonstrate an improved and strengthened political status, achieved through hard work, dedication, and commitment.

It has succeeded in carving out an outstanding political place within the current political landscape. We have heard and will continue to address the democratic discontent that has become pervasive. Al Jama-ah will continue to fight to disrupt the status quo that has brought us to this place of discontentment.

The party has, and will continue to fight boldly against all forms of oppression and injustice – both within and outside of our borders, being the first party to show its support for a free palestine since the party's inception 17 years ago.

At the same time, the Party has gained the confidence of rural communities, and urban residents alike, because of its demonstrated ability to carry out innovative and inclusive development projects and to fight for quality services for all, not just a privileged few.

We will oppose, and fight to dismantle all cultural, systemic, institutional, and structural barriers to the growth and development of our children and youth. We have noted how our young people are demonised and oppressed within public institutions, and we say – NO MORE! At the same time, and in this way, we will foster the development of responsible, and socially conscious youth within a society that sees, understands, and provides for all their developmental needs.

Over the past five years (2019-2023), the Party has demonstrated that it is worthy of the confidence and trust of the public through the hard work of its Members of Parliament, Members of the Provincial Legislature, and its councillors, who operate at the coalface to ensure service delivery to YOU.

AL JAMA-AH HAS A GROWING NATIONAL FOOTPRINT

The Party has demonstrated notable success in Gauteng's City of Johannesburg (CoJ), where an Al Jama-ah Party Councillor Kabelo Gwamanda has held the position of Executive Mayor since the early part of 2023. Under Al-Jama-ah's leadership, the CoJ achieved an unqualified clean audit with no findings in many of its entities such as the theatre and the market. This positive result was issued recently under the current Executive Mayor's stewardship. Over this short period, Al Jama-ah Party has been running the mayoral parlour and has proven that the CoJ performed far better than the City of Cape Town!

In KwaZulu-Natal's Umdoni District, Al Jama-ah Party Councillor Asghar Khan chairs the Municipal Public Accounts Committee (MPAC) – a critical body in ensuring accountability within government. In Harding, Al Jama-ahs Councillor Goodwill Cele serves as chief whip. In eThekweni, Al Jama-ah Councillor Maulana Hoosen Khan holds the reigns as vice chair of the economic development committee. Finally, in Gauteng, Councillor Imraan Moosa was appointed to chair the Environmental and Infrastructure Services Department (EISD).

Besides these appointments, as the Party's leader, I have not shied away from fighting boldly for the rights of the vulnerable as a Member of Parliament (MP), since entering its hallowed corridors during early 2019. As the Party's appointed MP, I HAVE ENSURED DELIVERY ON YOUR MANDATE TO AL JAMA-AH - CONSISTENTLY AND IN A MANNER THAT IS INCOMPARABLE – NO PARTY HAS ACHIEVED SUCH SUBSTANTIVE GAINS IN LAW REFORM SINCE THE DAWN OF OUR CONSTITUTIONAL DEMOCRACY.

Over the past few years, I have introduced a range of Private Members Bills (PMBs) to bring legal relief to most of our society's vulnerable members, namely the women and children. One of the critical Bills that I struggled to introduce and fought for was the Registration of Muslim Marriages. I wanted to be certain that it gets approved so that the Muslim community can enjoy important rights on equal footing with EVERYONE else! Another PMB, which attracted my attention and that occupied a fair amount of my time was the Maintenance Act. This Act needed to be amended so that all South African women have greater access to the Maintenance courts; and via it, they would be able to access the system to be compensated monetarily. Because of the dominance of patriarchy, these were previously ONLY enjoyed by the men.

I have dedicated significant energy to address local economic development. Through these efforts, we have seen the establishment of three projects; the one was the Eastern Cape's Mpame Fishing village and the other was the setting up of Groutville's first peanut butter factory. These ground-breaking achievements have earned the trust of local communities; these have witnessed its community-turned Party leaders like Mrs. Veli Luthuli taking the reigns in achieving local ownership over the means of production.

The third project was established in Pietermaritzburg's Claridges; here, hand-in-hand with the local community, the Party made certain of the establishment of an agricultural unit that plans to train emerging farmers and to provide them with key management skills in areas such as Information Technology. In KZN's Umdoni and Western Cape's Mitchell's Plain, our Councillors have partnered with communities to establish and grow successful small businesses; these equipped them with the necessary equipment such as sewing machines for local clothing manufacturing.

Mention too should be made of the formation of the Party's Village League; the latter was established to liaise and advance rural projects; its headquarters is in Umdoni under the supervision of Councillor Ashgar Khan and his team. The Party also created a forum for the women known as Al Jama-ah Women's League that is lead by Mrs. Luthuli as well as an Al Jamaah Youth League that is under the leadership of Maulana Tawfeeq Elly; each of these play a critical role in the Party, and each one should be viewed as a significant pillar.

These are concrete ways that the Party has demonstrated its ability to MOBILISE YOUR VOTE for the betterment of all our communities. Al Jama-ah's candidates are reputable and dedicated civil servants. The Party has made significant contributions that resulted in a number of important social and economic shifts in both the urban and rural communities.

THROUGH A PLEDGE OF YOUR VOTE TO AL-JAMA-AH, YOU will ensure the expansion of the Party's service delivery footprint in Parliament and across our Provinces.

AL JAMA-AH HAS PROVEN ITSELF AS A POLICY DRIVER AND ENABLER Al Jama-ah has been driven by the dire plight of all South Africans and especially the poor and the vulnerable. Its members have demonstrated a profound sense of commitment to our country, and they have been guided by the principles of ubuntu. We, as Al Jama-ah members, remain dedicated to addressing the nation's needs by boldly confronting challenges arising from the our unique socio-historical contexts.

AL JAMA-AH PARTY'S FOCUS SHALL THEREFORE BE TO SERVE HUMANITY, SO THAT TOGETHER, WE WILL RISE!

Al-Jama-ah believes in establishing an environment for thriving business with a conscience and with the demonstrated commitment to building the social capital of especially our vulnerable communities. At the same time, the Party continues to strive for the sustainable development and independence of such communities through proper investment in local and informal economies.

AL JAMA-AH: BUILDING A BETTER FUTURE - TOGETHER!

Apartheid's insidious effect continues to inflict enduring psychological and sociological wounds on individual, structural and systemic levels. These continue to be perpetuated through divisive structural, cultural, systemic, and geographic divides.

AL JAMA-AH IS FIRM IN ITS COMMITMENT TO ENSURE THAT SOUTH AFRICA'S JOURNEY TOWARDS SOCIAL EQUALITY, REDRESS OF PAST INJUSTICES, AND PROTECTION OF HUMAN RIGHTS ARE ROBUSTLY PURSUED.

Persistent challenges such as systemic racism, ageism, structural inequality, religious supremacy, racial xenophobia, and ethnic discrimination impede the nation's progress towards social cohesion and prosperity.

The Party's focus, in this regard, will be on breaking down ALL traces of racial superiority, towards de-racialising our society, emphasising parity and inclusivity within all our communities. Through entrenching human rights at all levels of our society, Al Jama-Ah aims to combat all forms of supremacist ideologies and bigotry, whether it be rooted in race, religion, culture, or ethnicity.

For all the above reasons, Jama-ah's Vision is set, and it is aligned with the values of duty, service, accountability, honour, honesty, respect, equality, and the protection of human dignity above all. Al Jama-ah's policies are inspired by universal justice-centric principles; and these are for all of humanity as well as the environment.

We have a stark understanding that it is ONLY through the practical implementation of these principles that we may unlock the full potential of each and every citizen and resident in our country, and the nation as a whole.

A Trusted
People's Party

AL JAMA-AH is a political home FOR ALL CITIZENS

Pledge YOUR VOTE for Al Jama-ah and ensure a society that benefits all,
and leaves no-one behind!

Our Party is a Party of Conscience and Care.
It is a Voice of Activism for the benefit of all of Humanity.

Al Jama-ah is the only South African political party to have consistently delivered on its promises to its voters since its inception in 2007. Al Jama-ah is established upon Islamic principles of serving humanity; this thus resonates with all religious traditions. Al Jama-ah, therefore, carries a universal and inclusive appeal that is underpinned by a steadfast awareness of God's presence and the alignment of universal commitment to truth, justice, compassion, and love for all life.

In addition, Al Jama-ah advocates the idea of promoting and advancing the flourishing of moral values, protecting our ever-changing environment, and ensuring the development as well as the empowerment of all our people in both the urban and rural regions.

Spiritual values are celebrated as a resource for humanity and not in any supremacist exclusive manner. People of all religious traditions, serving in Al Jama-ah, are mindful of their divine obligation to serve Humanity.

AL JAMA-AH'S few sterling accomplishments

The Party has consistently expanded its national and provincial footprints to demonstrate that it is a Party that is ready and able to represent the interests of all communities across the country and in each of the nine provinces.

AL JAMA-AH'S promotion of Cultural Democracy

So far, it has ensured creating thriving cooperatives for communities in rural villages in a few provinces, while it has been fighting for genuine legal and land reform. In the legal arena, the Party strove over the five years to bring about legislative reform to safeguard the rights of the elders, women, and children. It thus too worked towards ensuring the full recognition of the marriages of minority communities whose needs were not adequately addressed by South Africa's National government since the formation of the country's 1994 Constitutional Democracy.

AL JAMA-AH advocates for a Political Democracy

Not only has the Party held the ruling party and the major opposition political parties to account in the National Parliament, it has also done so in the Western Cape Legislature. It should, in fact, be viewed as a Party - despite its size - that is able to potentially model co-operative governance with other parties in the Western Cape.

This Party's principle ensures that the majority party not only governs effectively, but it does so with the fervent hope of achieving a stable and all-inclusive thriving country; one that will work in the interest of service delivery for all the citizens provincially and nationally.

At a national level, the Party intends to ensure that there is 'justice for all' - and it does so fearlessly. It emphasizes openness, accountability, transparency, oversight, and consequence management through the adoption and adherence to co-operative governance principles, rather than participating in adversarial theatrics.

It wishes to uphold all South Africans' voices, and it intends to do so not only through its internal diversity, where certain parties clearly only stand for certain groups - but it is prepared to co-govern with any other party that is willing to struggle unwaveringly for the interests of ALL communities, and that have similar objectives without compromising the party's fundamental principles nationally or globally.

Challenging

- Ensuring effective responses to the needs of marginalized communities.

Al Jama-ah can effectively promote pro-poor, pro-development, socially conscious entrepreneurship, and economic democracy with these practical strategies. When the Party employs these workable strategies, it, thereby, contributes to inclusive and sustainable economic growth.

It has already done so through various submissions orally and written. For this reason, the Party calls on voters to "pledge" their vote with the view that when they for the Party, then it delivers for them.

Ensuring Meaningful Change!

AL JAMA-AH'S Clarion Call is

"Pledge your vote, Together We Rise!"

A Word for the Party's leadership:

YOU, the People, have called for change, and the Party's leadership is listening; and it is thus ready to serve, to represent, and to fight for YOUR interests. Along with YOU, it wishes to create a society where all citizens will enjoy all FOUR Generations of Human Rights, including:

First Generation Human Rights:

Also known as civil and political rights that the Party will robustly defend. These rights focus on individual freedoms such as the 'right to life, liberty, and security', 'freedom of speech, religion, and assembly', and the 'right to a fair trial'.

Examples include: the 'right to vote', 'freedom from torture', and the 'right to privacy'.

Second Generation Human Rights:

Also known as socio-economic rights or economic, social, and cultural rights that the Party will ensure are visibly promoted by the relevant Commissions that are tasked with the advancement of Human Rights, Cultural, Religious, Language, and Gender development. These rights pertain to social, economic, cultural equality, and well-being; this, for example, includes the 'right to education, healthcare, adequate housing, and social security'.

Examples include: 'right to work', 'right to education', and 'right to an adequate standard of living'.

Third Generation Human Rights:

Also known as solidarity rights or collective rights. The Party intends to strive building a culture of social cohesion and solidarity by decrying the practices of cultural and religious "othering"; and it, instead, promotes a mindset within the citizenry of having an "inside" view of diverse cultures. This is to develop understanding not converting/proselytising.

These 'rights' emphasize the importance of group or collective interests such as the 'right to self-determination', 'right to peace', and 'right to a healthy environment'.

Examples include: 'rights of "first nation" peoples', 'right to development', and 'right to a clean and sustainable environment'.

Fourth Generation Human Rights:

Also known as 'emerging rights' or 'new rights'. These rights encompass issues related to globalization, technology, and the environment; and they have emerged in response to contemporary challenges.

The Party thus enables "a roots and wings" ethos – where own culture and language should be celebrated and promoted, albeit in a technological age of globalisation and "vanishing cultures".

Examples include: 'right to internet access', 'right to privacy in the digital age', and 'right to protection from environmental degradation'.

Al Jama-ah is mindful that these 'Four Generations of Human Rights' represent the evolving nature of any human rights' discourse and culture; and they reflect the changing societal values, needs, and challenges that usually take place over time.

If this is to hold true, then Al Jama-ah's stand is clearly against imperialism, fascism, Zionism, and neo-liberalism as well as other predatory ideological systems; ones that unashamedly promote exceptionalism and supremacism of racism, injustice, unfairness, and inequality.

Al Jama-ah, accordingly, promotes an inclusive human rights society based on 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th Generation Human Rights.

Considering the listed points, this is thus a vital call by Al Jama-ah to all voters that the Party and its members are willing to serve humanity since they are indeed conscious of their obligation to the Divine.

We are reminded of Frantz Fanon's visionary words:
"Each generation must discover its mission, fulfil it or betray it, in relative opacity."

Al Jama-ah's Core Manifesto Message is "full employment with decent jobs for all"
and a Set of Rights that includes, among others,
"Every Right for Every Child."

When YOU cast YOUR VOTE For AL JAMA-AH, and then YOU should remember the following RIGHTS:

- The Right of Every Child to be protected, safe, and secured.
- The Right to Everyone's personal safety.
- The Right to clean drinkable water.
- The Right to universal health care.
- The Right to decent jobs.
- The Right to be free of mass surveillance.
- The Right not to be tortured.

The Right to more civilian oversight in our intelligence sector.
